

MINWORKERS PROVIDENT FUND

committed to excellence

Mineworkers Provident Fund (MWPf) was established in 1989 and growing strong with R32.5 billion in assets, it remains focused on creating the retirement fund of choice. It is the Fund's aim to provide sustainable returns and superior benefits for its members.

Over the years, not only has the Fund been able to meet its Investment objective of CPI + 4.5% over any consecutive five-year period, but the Fund has outperformed all industry peers (with the same investment objectives) over three, five and 10 years respectively. The Fund also stacks up favourably over one year as it remains in the top three Funds when compared to peers.

MWPf's winning formula is simple - tailored solutions and member centred product offerings.

"We offer much more than just retirement benefits to ensure our members and their beneficiaries are well taken care of long after retirement or in unforeseen circumstances," explains Muziwandile Ndlovu, MWPf Chief Operating Officer and Business Development Executive. Having recently made some benefit improvements which include increasing the funeral benefit for member, spouse and children from R50 000 to R60 000, MWPf is always looking for ways to put their members first. MWPf's other benefits include:

Funeral Benefit After Retirement Age

If a member retires from the Fund, they continue to be covered for the funeral benefit of R60,000.

Family Assistance Benefit

- Bereavement: repatriation, funeral assistance, legal advice and bereavement counselling.
- Trauma: rape, assault, HIV counselling and Emergency Medical Services.

Disability Benefit

Permanently disabled members receive their full Fund Credit plus three times annual salary.

Death Benefit

Upon death of a member, the Fund credit plus three times annual salary is paid.

Retirement Benefit

The full Fund Credit is paid upon retirement to underground members aged 60 and other members aged 63.
